DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 37-41, drawn to a method for screening for a compound for treating HCV by assessing a compound's effect on OAS activity.

Group II, claim(s) 42, drawn to a compound capable of modulating OAS activity.

Group III, claim(s) 43-47, drawn to a method for screening for a compound for treating HCV by assessing a compound's effect on RNase L activity.

Group IV, claim(s) 48, drawn to compound capable of modulating RNase L activity.

Group V, claim(s) 49-53, drawn to a method for screening for a compound for treating HCV by assessing a compound's effect on 2'-5' phosphodiesterase.

Group VI, claim(s) 54, drawn to a compound capable of modulating 2'-5' phosphodiesterase.

Group VII, claim(s) 55-57, drawn to a method for the manufacture of a product of either a medicament or a diagnostic reagent.

Group VIII, claim(s) 58-63, drawn to a method of determining whether an HCV infected patient has an OAS1 gene in which the gene sequence at position 84 is G.

Group IX, claim(s) 64, drawn to a pharmaceutical compound.

The inventions listed as Groups I-IX do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The claims do not share a common special technical feature. The claims are drawn to methods for screening for compounds that modulate different activities, namely, OAS activity, RNase activity or 2'-5' phosphodiesterase activity.

Additionally, the claimed compounds drawn to modulating differential activities lack a special technical feature, because no structure is disclosed. Screening methods do not equate to a method of making such compounds. Because the technical special feature of the Groups is a not a <sup>shared</sup> ~~special~~ technical feature, unity of invention is lacking.

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Gene activity or protein activity.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Claims 37-54 and 64.

The following claim(s) are generic: claims 37-54 and 64 are generic with respect to either gene or protein activity.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Gene and proteins both comprise of separate units, more specifically, nucleic acid and amino acids, respectively.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
